

background information

Axians Infoma GmbH is the experienced partner of local governments and their authorities, data centres and church organizations. This sustainable, economic and modern product and service offer provides the customers with the possibility of successfully coping with current and future challenges. The web-based software Infoma is a complete solution for financial accounting, supplemented by specialized methods and solutions surrounding the theme of eGovernment. Whether on the customer's own server, hosted in the data center or as a cloud solution - the customer decides on the deployment according to his needs. Axians Infoma is also paving the way for the digitization of administrative processes by providing conceptual advice and supporting customers in implementation.

All in all, more than 1,500 local authorities of all sizes use Infoma products, and of these authorities, more than 1000 deploy the Infoma financial system. There are about 400 customers on the customer list in the facilities management sector. As such, Axians Infoma is a market leader in the financial accounting and municipal facility management sector.

Within the framework of the Infoma partner group, which was founded by us in 2002 and is a cooperation between innovative datacentres, the members sell the Infoma newsystem products both autonomously as well as centrally, as full-scope service providers.

Thanks to the combination of the solution and consultation portfolio of Axians Infoma's affiliated companies Axians Infoma (Austria), Axians Infoma Switzerland, Axians Athos, Axians eWaste, Axians IKVS, Axians müllerchur and Axians Public Consulting, customers in Germany, Austria and Switzerland are afforded the opportunity of covering and controlling all tasks in the field of local finances, control and waste management from one source.

Axians Infoma belongs to Axians, the global family brand for ICT solutions by Vinci Energies.
